PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

After a strong December, markets generally retreated in the month of January with Australian equities returning -0.8% for the month and international equities returning -2.4%.

The InvestSMART Balanced Portfolio returned -0.8% over the month of January. The overweight to Australian equities dragged on the portfolio slightly as markets were down but the underweight to the US and overweights to Emerging Markets and Europe contributed positively.

Australian REITs posted a negative return over the month of -4.7% which was a continuation of the trend we saw in the latter half of last year as investors inflation expectations have risen, bond proxies such as REITs have been impacted. This sensitivity to interest rates is why the portfolio is underweight REITs.

Within fixed interest the portfolio's exposure to Australian government bonds returned 0.6% for the month as did the exposure to Macquarie Income Opportunities Fund. It is worth noting that the exposure to the Macquarie Income Opportunities Fund has returned 5.2% over the past year compared to 2.2% for the broader Australian bond market and relative to cash which returned 2.0% for the year. Overall the Macquarie Income Opportunities Fund has been a positive contributor not only in terms of return but also in risk-adjusted terms in that it has generally been less volatile than bonds.

Since inception the portfolio is slightly behind its cash +2% objective by around 0.8% after investment fees.

PORTFOLIO POSITIONING

The portfolio remains overweight Australian equities on the basis that valuations appear reasonably compelling when compared to other asset classes and given the attractive yield characteristics of the asset class. Within fixed interest the portfolio holds Australian government bonds and has an exposure to Australian credit and overseas securities. The portfolio is also underweight REITs. The portfolio is expected to do well in an environment where Australian equities outperform other asset classes and where credit outperforms government bonds. Within international equities the portfolios have a bias towards emerging markets and an underweight to US equities, therefore the portfolio will benefit when US equities underperform broader equity markets and emerging markets do well.

Current market pricing implies that the portfolio's RBA Cash Rate+2% objective is achievable over the long-term but only through a reasonable allocation to relatively volatile equity investments. This means that investors should be comfortable with above average volatility, which could result in a short-term fall in the portfolio's value of around 20%.
